

New Student Orientation Schedule

We are cautiously optimistic about teaching in-person during the fall semester. New Student Orientation will provide essential information and opportunities for community-building to help students acclimate to King's, while abiding by state and local health guidelines to protect students. Thank you in advance for your understanding as we follow the mandates that allow us to gather safely which we will explain in further detail in the beginning of August.

 This year guest attendance is limited to one guest per student and only to assist with Move-in Day.
