

The King's College follows New York state & New York City policies which you can find here.

Keep reading for our general COVID-19
event guidelines.

Masks & Face Coverings

Everyone must wear a face covering while on campus. Masks may only be removed for eating or drinking if socially distanced from other people, except during in-person classes where face coverings must remain on throughout the duration of class.

Social Distancing

When on campus & when around those who don't live with you, you must practice social distancing.

Cleaning

Use the disinfecting supplies found outside each classroom to wipe down used desks before & after your event.

Food

Catering options for all events on-campus must be pre-wrapped foods & individually sealed beverages.

Serving food at campus events must follow New York State's indoor dining regulations. Presently, all indoor dining is closed in New York City, so food may not be served during events, but pre-wrapped "Grab and Go" options may be distributed at the conclusion of an event.

Reduced Capacity: on-campus & off-campus

- Reduced classroom & conference room occupancy limits are listed on the Space Reservation Request Form and posted outside the classroom.
- Do not move desks in classrooms or move furniture on-campus. Desks & furniture are intentionally preset with social distancing in mind.
- Large gatherings, including outside, must remain fewer than 50 people.
- Indoor gatherings on-campus are permitted at double the occupancy (DeVos is 2-4 people, City Point & West are 8 people).
- Indoor gatherings at off-campus apartments are permitted up to 10 people maximum with social distancing.

Hybrid technology

The City Room & classrooms 521, 522, 523, 621, 625, 626, 628, & 633 have hybrid technology. These marked by a * on the Space Reservation Request Form. Student Services will include a Zoom meeting in a google calendar invitation once your request is approved. For help using this technology, see our guide.

NOTE: Due to COVID protocols, there will be no event services for the 2020-2021 academic year.
