Top Internships by Major

At King's, we encourage students to explore their fields of interest in practice.

As we say, "The City is our campus." Students learn ideas in the classroom and put them to the test in the City through internships, part-time work, and volunteering.

Students also receive in-depth career development training. This includes career planning meetings, resume coaching, interview practice, company visits (in non-COVID years), training in networking, connections to professionals throughout the City for informational interviews, and more. In a city that houses the largest number of Fortune 500 companies and hundreds of budding startups, students have countless opportunities to try out careers before they enter the workforce.

Influencing the Big Apple

New York City is a global hub. Here, students have access to internships at companies that set the bar for the rest of the world. News outlets such as CNBC, CNN, and Fox. Tech companies such as Google, Facebook, and LinkedIn. Art institutions like the Metropolitan Museum of Art, Broadway, and the Tribeca Film Festival. It is no accident that we chose New York City as our campus.

The city influences and shapes culture around the world, and students' time in New York prepares them for wherever God calls them next.

Through its commitment to the truths of Christianity and a biblical worldview, The King's College seeks to transform society by preparing students for careers in which they help to shape and eventually to lead strategic public and private institutions, and by supporting faculty members as they directly engage culture through writing and speaking publicly on critical issues.

The King's College admits students of any race, color, national and ethnic origin to all the rights, privileges, programs, and activities generally accorded or made available to students at the school. It does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national and ethnic origin in administration of its educational policies, admissions policies, scholarship and loan programs, and athletic and other school-administered programs.
